RELEASE DATE:

Frankfurt am Main / November 3, 2025

- Global ISCC PLUS certification for powder coatings and radcure products completed
- All sites offer now more sustainable alternatives
- allnex products enable customers to reduce the carbon footprint of their final applications

allnex has earned global ISCC PLUS certification for its Powder Coating Resins and Radcure products, including North Augusta, USA; Drogenbos and Schoonaarde, Belgium; Romano, Italy; Fengxian, China; and Rayong, Thailand. These certifications are part of allnex's global Mass Balance offer roadmap.

With this global certification, allnex can now provide more sustainable alternatives across nearly its entire Powder and Radcure portfolios. Our certified products enable customers to reduce the carbon footprint of their projects across markets such as Construction & Infrastructure, Mobility & Transportation, Packaging, and Consumer Goods.

Why it Matters

- ISCC PLUS is the only mass-balance scheme recognized by IKEA for carbon-conscious products, helping customers meet the sustainability standards of leading global brands.
- Products can contain up to 100% certified sustainable content, with flexible solutions tailored to customer needs.
- Using recycled and renewable feedstocks, allnex's Mass Balance products can reduce the carbon footprint of final applications by up to 90% for Powder Coating Resins and 60% for Radcure products.
- All calculations follow the TfS Guideline 3.0, ensuring reliable, transparent Product Carbon Footprints (PCF).
